

PEABODY MUSEUM OF ARCHAEOLOGY & ETHNOLOGY

From towering Native American totem poles and massive Maya sculptures to precious artifacts of the ancient world, the Peabody Museum at Harvard University displays hundreds of rare and fascinating objects drawn from among the largest collections of human cultural history found anywhere in the world.

- 8-minute walk from Harvard Square T stop. Open 9–5 daily
- Free admission for Massachusetts K–12 teachers and Harvard ID holders
- Ticket includes admission to the connected Harvard Museum of Natural History
- Visit www.peabody.harvard.edu for new exhibitions and public events

